

I am very concerned about digital broadcast copy restrictions (including the so-called "broadcast flag"). This should not be done. Hollywood already controls too much of our culture and is strangling our democracy by making every expression, utterance, and thought ownable, and therefore legally controllable. This is a major technical step in actually implementing centralized control of all digital information. It is unconstitutional and unconscionable.